Money Week

This week has been Money Week. The children have had to design and make products which will then be sold. The older children have had to work out the finances behind their products, including the cost of raw materials, potential production costs (including the cost of hiring of school equipment) and then work out intended profit. They have had to present their designs and explain their costings to a panel of experts who either approved their plans or disapproved them. It's all been great fun!
